Original Poetry.

THE THREE LITTLE CHAIRS.

They sat alone by the bright wood fire,
The grey-haired dame and the aged sire,
Dreaming of days gone by;
The tear-drop fell on each wrinkled cheek,
They both had thoughts that they could not speak,
As each heart uttered a sigh.

For their sad and tearful eyes deseried,
Three little chairs placed side by side,
Against the sitting-room wall;
Old-fashioned enough, as there they stood,
Their seats of flag, and their frames of wood,
With their backs so straight and tall.

Then the sire shook his silvery head,
And with trembling voice he gently said—
"Mother, those empty chairs,
They bring us such sad, sad thou'ts to-night
We'll put them forever out of sight,
In the small, dark room, up stairs."

But she answered: "Father, no, not yet,
For I look at them, and I forget,
That the children went away.
The boys come back, and our Mary, too,
With her apron on of checkered blue,
And sit here every day.

Johnny still whittles a ship's tall masts,
And Willie his leaden bullets casts,
While Mary her patchwork sews;
At evening time, three childish prayers,
Go up to God from those little chairs,
So softly that no one knows.

Johnny comes back from the billow deep,
Willie wakes from the battle-field sleep,
To say a good-night to me;
Mary's a wife and mother no more,
But a tired child whose play-time is o'er,
And comes to rest on my knee.

So let them stand there, tho' empty now.
And every time, when alone, we bow,
At the Father's throne to pray.
We'll ask to meet the children above,
In our Savior's home of rest and love,
Where no child goeth away."

CHAPTER XVI.

Battle of May 10th—Battle of May 12th—March across Ny river—Move to our Right—Fight of our Reinforcements—March to Guinney Station—March to North Anna River—Skirmish on South Bank—Tearing up Virginia Central Railroad—Prisoners—Butler's House—March to Chesterfield Station—Forced night march to Pamunkey river—March to Hanover C. H.—Skirmish on the Talopotomy—March to Cold Harbor—Battle of June 3d—Battle of June 2d—Digging up to the Rebels—Men dying in close Quarters—Mistaken Retreat—Evacuation of Cold Harbor.

In the early morning of the 12th of May, our friends of the 2nd corps made a most brilliant and successful charge about one fourth of a mile to our left, and captured Bushrod Johnson and his division, surprising them half asleep in their works. The rebels quickly rallied and succeeded in driving Hancock's troops out of a part of the works, but not till they had secured their prisoners, and had got firm hold of a very important part of the rebel pits. But protected by traverses inside, and by the perfect arrangement of their pits, they prevented any further advance of the 2nd corps.—Our friends of the 148th suffered considerable losses in the struggle, and the victory the 2nd corps had won, was secured only by a bloody and hard struggle. The 5th corps were to support them in the charge, but, for some reason, were not in the right place at the right time, and orders came to the old 6th to go up to the help of the 2nd corp, upon whom the enemy were crowding legions to drive them from their works. We went. It began to rain, and still we went up and tried to capture an angle of the rebel works just to the right of the 2nd corps. We got within a few feet of them, and one line after another was broken up by the terrible fire, but not one went back. Lying flat in the mud, behind bushes and stumps, in little hollows, and making little piles of mud, our men held their places, and were helped by their comrades until twenty regimental flags were planted about that angle of the rebel works, and not more than thirty yards away. A constant fire was kept up on the rebel works, but they were so well protected by a heavy log on top of their pit, that they succeeded in killing and wounding a large number of our men. Capt's Quigley and Wambacker were both seriously wounded. All this long, rainy day the firing never ceased. The cartridges were tossed, from man to man, from rear to front, in packages, brought up by pack mules to the men farthest from the enemy. The men, when they could do no better, robbed the wounded and dead of their ammunition, that they might keep up the fire upon the enemy, and so distract theirs.

At one time we thought we might make a break in their works by running up a piece of artillery and opening upon it at a range of twenty yards, and a gun, with limber box full of ammunition, was hurried up. A single volley from the enemy's line killed every horse, and every driver, right in their places, and the gun stood there, with the bullets of the enemy rattling upon it, right between our hostile lines. A coffee pot, tied on the limber-box, was perforated like a sieve. Still, Capt. Cook, of the 5th Wisconsin, with a squad of his men, in a lull in the firing, took the gun, unlimbered it, and fired every shot and shell in the box, squarely into the enemy's works, and lest only one man wounded, the one who played the part of gunner No more gallant or more reckless act was ever performed in our war, but fortune favors the brave.

It rained all day. The men caught water in their rubber blankets to drink, and to cool and wash out their rifles, clogged and heated by continuous firing. A white oak tree, standing just at the angle of the works of the enemy, fell into their lines, cut off by our bullets in the course of this tremendous and terrible struggle. It is still preserved at our War Department at Washington.

Once the enemy raised a white handkerchief, or flag, on the works, and our men sprang to their feet, with cheers, thinking it a surrender of the works, but it was only a trick, and our men were met by a volley from the rebels. The excitement was intense, and if we could have got to them then, few rebels would have been captured, and few have been left alive in those works.

It is only fair to our rebel friends to say that some of them, whom we captured afterwards, declared that the flag was put up by a frightened, half-crazy fellow, and that it was not seen by them, and they fired upon us when we rose and cheered, believing we were about to charge their works.

The fight went on all day, and nearly all night. Company C had rejoined what portion of the regiment we had been able to find, under command of the writer, and took position to the left of our brigade, reporting to an officer of the 2nd corps there, whose name is not remembered. During the night we were moved to join the balance of our regiment, and the firing began to slacken at about 3 a. m. We found, at daylight, that the rebels had abandoned their works, and we took possession.

Around that fatal angle we might almost walk upon the bodies of our dead, and within it the rebels lay equally thickly. In their ditch, in the mud and water, the powder-blackened faces of their slain stared at us in every conceivable shape.

Hearing some one groan, apparently under a number of bodies we got out, what we supposed was a badly wounded rebel, and found that he was not in any way hurt, but that, being frightened, he had hid in the ditch, and either pulled over him, or there had fallen upon him the dead bodies of enough to imprison him there in the mud and water.

The rain had ceased, and we busied ourselves in burying our dead, or as many of them as we could. We left many unburied, of our own, and all the rebels.

We then moved off to the left. Our brigade re-formed, and being now commanded by Gen. Eustis, of Massachusetts, the writer was detailed as Brigade Inspector, and some other changes were made in our staff organization.

Getting a supply of rations and ammunition, we went into bivouac in the woods.

Gen. Meade sent us a congratulatory order, saying we have taken 18 guns, 22 colors, and eight thousand prisoners.

It continued to rain, at intervals, all day; and, in the evening, we moved to the front, into rifle pits, and lay down to sleep.

On the 14th we moved slowly towards our left, until near evening, when we were ordered to ford the Ny river, and take a hill from which some of the regulars were reported to have been driven. We went through the river, and a thick woods, in the gathering darkness, and found Ayre's brigade in possession of the hill. We relieved them, and went into bivouac there, first gathering up and burying some of our dead.

WALK WHEN YOU BEGIN.—When Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth commenced the practice of law, he lived in Bloomfield; and as his pecuniary means were not large, he was accustomed to come from his office on foot. There was, at the time, a dashing merchant in the city—Mr. H., who rode in a showy vehicle, drawn by a pair of showy horses; and as he often rode to Bloomfield, he frequently met Mr. E. Meeting him one morning, he reined up his team, and saluted him with "Good morning, Mr. Ellsworth, what are you walking for; why don't you ride?"

"Because," was the reply, "I have found that persons must walk at some period of their lives, and I choose to walk when I begin."

It would be well if all who are setting out in life were of this opinion; but they are not. Hence such numbers, determined to ride when they are young, are forced to walk when they are old.

A few years having elapsed, Mr. H. failed in business, and was obliged to go afoot; while Mr. E., ascending from small beginnings, became Minister Plenipotentiary to France, and rode in his coach.

Walk when you begin.

IT is a terrible thing to begin to let conscience grow hard, for it soon scars as with a hot iron. It is like the freezing of a pond. The first film of ice is scarcely perceptible; keep the water stirring, and you will prevent the ice from hardening it; but once let it film over and remain so, it thickens over the surface, and it thickens still, and at last it is so solid that wagons might be drawn over the solid water. So with conscience; it films over gradually, and at last it becomes hard, unfeeling, and it can bear up a weight of inequity.

A YOUNG man lately went in bathing at Lothinfere, Providence of Quebeck, placing his clothes upon what he supposed was a stone. It turned out to be a seal, basking in the sun, which was thus disturbed, and made for the water with the young man's clothes.

A Lawyer's Romance.

Roswell M. Field, the "Nestor of the Missouri bar," a lawyer whose entire lack of ambition lost the fame his rare and great ability might have won, died in St. Louis recently. He had a peculiar romantic episode in his early manhood. He was the son of General M. Field, of Newfame, Vermont, and practiced law a while in the courts of his native country. His abandonment of his lucrative practice, and removal from the State, to which he never returned, was occasioned by an unfortunate bestowal of his affections, under circumstances, rarely, if ever, paralleled.

He fell in love with an accomplished young lady in Windsor, and, though she was engaged to another gentleman, succeeded in winning her affections and inducing her to join him in a secret marriage, which was to be, followed by cohabitation in case the consent of her parents could be obtained, but otherwise to be void. She failed to gain that consent, and as soon as he could be summoned from Boston, was publicly married to her first love, who joined her in a suit in chancery against Mr. Field for the dissolution of the secret marriage. Both she and her suit survived her husband, but at last she won it in the Supreme Court, and the case is reported at length in the 13th volume of Vermont reports.

Mr. Field felt sorely aggrieved at the result, and issued a phamphlet in which he sought to vindicate himself before the world. Afterward, however, he married another lady, with whom he lived happily. She had been dead several years, and four children, we think, survived them both. Years after the strange suit the lady whom he first loved and then fought so presistently, then twice a widow, married a merchant of Windsor county, who shortly thereafter moved to St. Louis, there they lived for several years, moved in the first circle (though never meeting M. Field), and where she died suddenly, beloved by all who knew her.

FIGHT YOUR WAY UP.—The many who have to take the world rough and tumble are prone to envy the few who roll thro' it unjolted in cloned vehicles on patent springs. The toiler, as he stumbles thro' its thorny thickets and climbs over its foot-blistering gravel, is apt to curse the ill luck that placed him on such a hard road, and to sigh for a seat in one of the splendid equipages that glide so smoothly over Fortune's macadamized turnpike. Born with a pewter spoon in his mouth, he covets the silver one which was the birthright of his well-to-do neighbor. Occupation is the "immediate jewel" of life. It is true that riches are no bar to erection. Quite the reverse, when their uses are properly understood. But the discontented worker who pines for wealth, without being willing to labor for it, regards the idleness in which it would enable him to live as the acme of temporal happiness. He has no idea of money as a great motive power, to be applied in enterprises that give healthful employment to mind and body. All to lost luxuriously. We have no sympathy with such sensuous longings.—People who indulge in them never acquire wealth. They lack the energy to break their way to the worldly independence for which they yearn and whine. They don't know how much more glorious it is to tear affluence from opposing fate by main strength of will and inflexibility of purpose, than to receive it as a windfall. There is infinitely more satisfaction in conquering a fortune than was ever experienced by a "lucky heir" in obtaining the golden store which some thrifty hand had accumulated. Your accidental Crœsus knows nothing of the pride of success—of honest exultation with which the self-made man looks back upon the impediments he has overcome, and forward into the far future which he has earned the right to enjoy.

MARK TWAIN'S EXPERIENCE.—Mark Twain writes as follows from Vicksburg:

At dinner yesterday I helped myself to a piece of pumpkin pie. The gentleman who had been so obliging as to amuse me at an expense of $75, observing me eat the pie, rose from the table with a heavy frown on his face. When I had finished my dinner and walked forward to the social hall he approached with a drawn Bowie knife and sternly demanded of me where I was from. I told him, after a slight hesitation, that I was born in Albemarle county, Va., and that I was a nephew of Colonel ——. He then said: "If this is the case, sir, you may continue to live; but, sir, I thought you must be a d—d Yankee from the way you ate that pumpkin pie, and in that case I should have regarded it as a duty to cut your throat!"

I thanked him very politely for the high regard he manifested for the place of my birth and my family connections. He then asked me if I took part in the rebellion. I said yes. He inquired on which side. I replied on both; that I was visiting a relative of mine by the name of John M. Bott's at the time the war closed. He seemed satisfied with my answer, and asked me to introduce him to Gen. Blair.

He told the General that he was the first man that he ever voted for that he had fought against; that the South could never have been conquered if he, Col. J. Hawker, I think he called himself, had been in command, or if they had all been like him. I think he said he had lost an uncle, a nigger, a watch, and thirty dollars in Confederate money.

Whom do Great Men Marry?

Women, of course. But they show the same diversity of taste that is seen in lower ranks, and, on the whole, make worse mistakes. They, however, show the same sense in choosing wives that they show in managing other people's affairs, whether it be good or bad.

Robert Burns married a farm girl with whom he fell in love, while they worked together in the plow-field. He, too, was irregular in his life, and committed the most serious mistakes in conducting his domestic affairs.

Milton married the daughter of a country squire, but lived with her but a short time. He was an austere, exclusive literary recluse; while she was a romping country lass that could not endure the restraint imposed upon her, and so they separated. Subsequently, however, she returned, and they lived tolerably happy.

Queen Victoria and Prince Albert were cousins, and about the only example in the long line of English monarchs wherein the marital vows were sacredly observed, and sincere affection existed.

Washington married a widow with two children. It is enough to say of her that she was worthy of him, and that they lived, as married folks should, in perfect harmony.

John Adams married the daughter of a Presbyterian clergyman. Her father objected on account of John's being a lawyer; he had a bad opinion of the morals of the profession.

Thomas Jefferson married Mrs Martha Skelton, a childless widow, but she brought him a large fortune in real estate. After the ceremony, she mounted the horse, behind him, and they rode home together. It was late in the evening, and they found the fire out. But the great statesman bustled around and re-built it, while she dressed the broom and soon put things to order. It is needless to say that they were happy, though Jefferson died a poor man on account of his extreme liberality and hospitality.

John Howard, the great philanthropist, married his nurse. She was altogether beneath him in social life and intellectual capacity, and, besides this, she was fifty-two years old, while he was but twenty-five. He would not take "No" for an answer, and they were married, and lived happily together until her death, which occurred two years afterward.

Peter the Great, of Russia, married a peasant girl. She made him a good wife, and a sagacious empress.

Humboldt married a poor girl because he loved her. Of course they were happy.

Shakespeare loved and wedded Anne Hathaway's daughter. She was faithful to her vows, but we could hardly say the same of the great bard himself. Like most great poets, he showed too little discrimination in bestowing his affection on the sex.

Byron married Miss Millbank to get money to pay his debts. It turned out a bad shift.

Benjamin Franklin married the girl who laughed at him as he wandered through the streets of Philadelphia with rolls of bread under his arms, and his pockets filled with dirty clothes. She had occasion to be happy when she found herself the wife of such a great and good man.

It is not generally known that Andrew Jackson married a lady whose husband was still living. She was an uneducated, but amiable woman, and was devotedly attached to the old warrior and statesman.

John C. Calhoun married his cousin, and their children, fortunately, were neither diseased nor idiotic, but they do not evince the talent of the great "States' rights" advocate.

Edward Lytton Bulwer, the English statesman and novelist, married a girl much his inferior in position, and got a shrew for a wife. She is now insane.

A STUDENT of Williams College, who was to spend the summer vacation at Pittsfield, and whom his father gave $100 to do it with, got rid of that amount somewhat against his will in two little investments, before the third day of the time had expired. The second day he bethought himself to offer a ride to a Lanesboro lady, to whom he owed a philepena present, and in the course of the afternoon, having stopped at a jewelry store, offered her the privilege of selecting such a present as she chose. She modestly selected a diamond ring, valued at $75—three-fourths of the whole vacation fund. Caught, he could not retrograde; pay he must, and pay he did, as gracefully as the circumstances would allow.

A POOR girl attempted to commit suicide by throwing herself into the river at East Saginaw, Mich, last week, but was rescued by some sailors. She was tired of life, and took this method of ridding herself of misery. Her story was told amid broken sobs, that told a deeper misery than words can. Her preserver finally induced her to give up her intention for the present, and go home.—"Home," she said, "I have no home, the whole world turns a cold shoulder on me."

THERE is an anecdote told somewhere of a dispute,

It is well to attend to this matter in time, so that all who are entitled to vote shall be registered.

Ratification Meeting.

The ratification meeting held in the Court House, on Wednesday evening, 25th inst., was a complete success. House was filled to its utmost capby Republicans as well as Dem-o'clock, the meeting was or- by calling Capt. A. B. HUTCH- to the chair, and electing JOHN and Capt. LYTLE, Secretaries. Upon taking the chair, Capt. HUTCHISON made a short address, in which he reviewed the record of the Democratic party for the last ten years. He showed how the leaders of the Democratic party had sacrificed their Jeffersonian principles, their honor and their manhood, by embracing the slave dogmas of the Southern leaders of that party. He showed in the most lucid manner, the time when the party embraced the State-Rights theory of JOHN C. CALHOUN, and that other and still more devilish doctrine which grew out of, and was twin sister to the CALHOUN fallacy that "Capital should own labor." He showed that slavery was anti Democratic, and that no party could embrace it, and the peculiar dogmas necessary to its perpetuity in the country without calling down upon itself the curse of a just and merciful GOD, and the indignation of the American people. "Whom the GOD's would destroy, they first make mad." So it was with these Democratic leaders.

After deserting all the liberty loving doctrines of the fathers and founders of the country; after calling down the vengeance of Heaven upon themselves for their unparalleled oppression of a portion of GOD's creatures, they fill the cup of their iniquity full to overflowing, by drawing the sword and making war upon the Government—a Government which had never wronged them in the smallest particular.

In this wicked war, Mr. HUTCHISON showed that the South was aided by the leaders of the Democratic party North—that Pres't BUCHANAN had proclaimed the anti-coercion doctrine, and the false and traitorous principle afterwards adopted by the party, that there was "no power in the Constitution to coerce a State." He showed that ASA PACKER, WOODWARD, WALLACE, CLYMER, VALLANDIGHAM, PENDLETON, and all the other leaders of that party had embraced this false and dangerous doctrine, and while they sympathized with, and aided the cause of, the enemies of the country, they so't to bring down to their own level—to their own deep and damning infamy—the whole Democratic party. How well they succeded let the history of the past ten years answer.

Mr. HUTCHISON spoke of our county ticket as one eminently "fit to be made," and called upon all loyal people, and especially his fellow-soldiers, to aid once more in planting the "old flag" high on the ramparts of freedom. He said if the loyal people of Centre county did their duty, that the "Court House Ring" would be driven—like Gen. LEE and his rebel hordes—horse, foot and dragoon—into that obscurity which their treason has merited.

After exhorting all to do their duty, and calling upon the honest, intelligent portion of the Democratic party to come over to us and aid us in the glorious work of building up the Government we, by the blessing of GOD, had saved from the effects of Democratic treason and traitors, introduced to the audience, the Hon. H. B. SWOOP.

Mr. SWOOP, for 1 hour and a-half, held that large audience spell-bound. He is emphatically one of the best stump speakers in the State. He understands the record of the Democratic party, and is not afraid to tell it. He had listened to the speeches of Mr. CORTRELL, of N. Y., and coffee pot WALLACE, on Tuesday evening. These speeches, he said, afforded him a text. He first reviewed the speech of Mr. CORTRELL. It did not take him long. Not a grease spot of the New York lawyer was left. He showed how inconsistent this man was, in coming from N. York to Pennsylvania, to preach against negro suffrage. He showed that negroes voted in New York, and had done so for years, and that the right to do so had been conferred upon them by the Democratic party of that State. He, CORTRELL, was a pretty tool to talk about negro suffrage. Mr. SWOOP then took up coffee-pot WALLACE, and for about one hour poured in a continuous flow of hot shot and shell, demolishing every argument adduced by WALLACE.—WALLACE, said the speaker, talks of corruption at Harrisburg; are his own skirts clear? Why does the pure and immaculate WALLACE remain in Harrisburg, and mingle and associate with these thieves? A man is known by the company he keeps. GRAY MEEK was very anxious to go back, and WALLACE could not be induced to resign.—BURNS, and POTTER, and MEEK, and WALLACE! Glorious Quartette!—They talk of corruption—of honesty—of fair dealing—of retrenchment and reform! If you want the tax payers borne down with taxes, and the State overwhelmed with debt, turn it over to such men as WALLACE, MEEK and the fourteen Democrats who voted last winter to raise their salary from $1000 to $1500 for the session. The speaker said he was not acquainted with JACOB MYER, the Democratic candidate for Assembly from this county; but JAS. BURNS and Gen. JAS. POTTER would soon teach him the ropes, and put him in the way of getting rich, fast, on a very small salary.

Mr. SWOOPE then took up the record of the Democratic party. He showed that for a period of thirty years—from 1829 to 1859—with the exception of three Gubernatorial terms, the Democratic party held the Executive power of the State, and with the exception of three or four years, perhaps, entire control of the Legislative branch of the State government. During this period, he said, including the light debt contracted previously under Democratic administrations, the State was saddled with a debt of $40,000,000, and a State tax of three mills on real estate, producing annually about $1,800,000, was levied in 1844 to pay the interest. This was purely Democratic policy. That party is fairly chargeable with the $40,000,000 debt, and the $1,800,000 tax. And this is not all. They are responsible for the war of the rebellion; and, being responsible for the war, they are responsible for its consequences; among which we may reckon $5,000,000 extraordinary expenses, which the State was obliged to incur, to enable her to act her part in the war, and subsequently a sum which will probably reach $10,000,000, to house, feed, clothe and educate the orphan children of brave soldiers and sailors who perished in combat, or died of disease, or exposure in the service of their country. With these $15,000,000 the Democracy are, therefore, also chargeable, their expenditure being the legitimate result of the rebellion, and the rebellion being the legitimate FRUIT of Democratic doctrine. Carrying out these ideas, and this same train of thought, Mr. SWOOP went on to show that by the close of Gov. GEARY's administration, the regular State debt will have been reduced fully ten millions, and the war debt, and soldiers' and orphans' education expenses about eight millions, and there will remain in the State Treasury, railroad bonds of the Pennsylvania company, or guaranteed by it, some twelve millions more. To make it clear, said Mr. SWOOP, let us recapitulate. And to substantiate his position he stated the case as follows:

State Debt, created by Democrats.....	$40,000,000
War Debt, created by Democrats	5,000,000
Soldiers' orphans, created by Democrats...	10,000,000
Total.....	$55,000,000
Paid off by 10 yrs Republican rule.....$18,000,000
Railroad bonds.....12,000,000	30,000,000
Debt unprovided for..	$25,000,000

"The Democratic party by the act of April 29, 1844, had fastened upon the real estate of the tax payers a State tax from which about $1,800,000 annually was realized. This was repealed by the Republican administration of Febuary 13 1866. The thirty years policy of the Democratic party may be summed up in fighting corporations and taxing the masses of the people. The Republicans have repealed the tax upon the masses of the people, and put it upon the great corporations that have grown up. Railroads, banks and manufacturing corporations now pay the taxes which sustain the State government. If Asa Packer should be elected, he, of course, will not like his coal and railroad corporations to be taxed as they now are under a Republican legislature. He will insist on the repeal of all this, and that the Democratic legislation of 1844, taxing real estate, should be restored."

Mr. SWOOP closed his speech with a beautiful and eloquent episode on the dignity of labor, and the great doctrine of Protection to American Labor. His speech will not soon be forgotten by those who heard him.

Notwithstanding the lateness of the hour, the audience still lingered, as if they were anxious to hear more, whereupon WM. C. HOLAHAN, of Bedford, Pa., was called out, and for a few minutes entertained the audience in a neat, forcible and eloquent speech. Mr. HOLAHAN is a native of our county, a young man of great promise, of good moral character, and an indefatigable friend of Liberty, and equal rights for all. We hope to hear him when he will have a better opportunity.

The meeting was a complete success. The speeches were all good. The arguments unanswerable. Every Republican present was full of hope and enthusiasm. All resolved to go home and work as they had never done before for the success of Republican principles—our noble standard-bearer, Gov. JOHN W. GEARY—and the whole county ticket.

Reasons for Supporting Geary.

The following excellent reasons why Gov. GEARY should be re elected, we find going the rounds, credited to 'a cotemporary:"

Because he has been a faithful, efficient and honest Chief Magistrate.

Because he is the nominee and representative of a party that stood by the country in the hour of danger, and that stands by the principles of justice and freedom, upon which our government is based.

Because he has been tried and not found wanting, neither in his devotion to the principles of true Republicanism, nor in his integrity in adhering to the strict line of principle in all his official acts.

Because he is a man whose private character is unblemished, and whose habits are such as meet the approval of all good citizens.

Because, Pennsylvania owes it to her honor and fair name not to permit a brave and gallant soldier who drew his sword for her safety, in the hour of her deadly peril, and who has served her faithfully in time of peace, to be defeated by one who sympathized with her enemies when the dark cloud of battle lowered, and the fierce conflict for national existence surged around her.

Because a just regard for the memory of the martyred dead, who fell in heroic struggle for national existence, forbids the State to place in high official position those who sympathized with her enemies.

Because the triumph of the Democratic candidate in this State would be the triumph of the principles of Free Trade, and a deadly blow at the policy of Protection to American Industry—a policy to which the hardy sons of the Old Keystone have always been devoted.

Because the triumphant re election of Governor Geary would rejoice the hearts of the true friends of the nation everywhere, while his defeat would bring joy into the camp of its enemies.

Besides the above there are these additional reasons why workingmen should vote for him:

Because he stands upon the record as a true friend to Labor and the laboring man, as shown by his support and approval of the Eight Hour Law in this Commonwealth, and by refusing to order out the military to guard, as criminals, the miners and laborers of the coal regions during suspensions, when requested to do so by certain nervous capitalists.

Because he is the nominee, and a consistent member, of the party which has done all that ever has been done in this country to ameliorate the condition of laboring men by abolishing slavery, passing Eight Hour laws, and protective tariffs.

Because his opponent, Asa Packer, is closely and largely identified with interests antagonistic to the cause which Labor is now fighting for, and if elected would certainly do all in his power to crush it.

A SILLY liar in the Reporter, writing from Aaronsburg to that gullible sheet, states that JAS. P. COBURN told MAGEE that he would not support him—MAGEE—for School Superintendent, "because he was a Democrat," although conceding his fitness. What Mr. COBURN did say when MAGEE asked for his support, was that his hands were tied and he could not support him. COBURN, however, agreed to remain at home in case the remaining School Directors did, and not go to Bellefonte and oppose MAGEE's nomination. MAGEE said "all right," but like a true Democrat, he hired a man to take the other Directors to Bellefonte to vote for him. Again, he offered to serve the people as Superintendent, for $600 per year; but immediately called a meeting of the Directors, and asked for $1200 How's that, Democratic tax-payers of Pennsvalley? Let the Aaronsburg nincompoop quit his silly fibbing, or write for the Watchman, which nobody believes.

Three years ago, Clymer, a man of some intellect, was the Democratic candidate for Governor. He was defeated. Now it is Packer, a man with plenty of money but a great lack of brains. We suppose their hope is that "money will make the mare go."

The Importance of The Present Campaign.

Every intelligent Republican, says the Harrisburg Telegraph has seen all along the importance of the political campaign soon to be entered into, and with a will, by both contending factions. How well the Democrats know the importance of a victory on their part, is easily ascertained by a cursory view of their line, and the desperate measures they are about to put in force to secure their ends.

By a defeat of the Republican ticket the affairs of State would be thrown into Democratic hands. There would be a Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, Adjutant General, &c., placed in power, all opposed to the advancement of enlightenment; and we would be governed with the same random carelessness that characterizes the controling power in Kentucky and other Democratic States.

By the election of a Democratic Supreme Judge, the standing of the Supreme Court would be changed from Republican to Democrat; and partisan motives would cause the Registry and other wholesome laws to be declared unconstitutional. Matters before the Supreme bench would be in a sad plight for years to come; and, if we judge from the past, fraudulent naturalization papers would again be issued without number, and greater frauds than ever winked at by the highest tribunal in the Commonwealth.

Should Democrats carry the State by the inactivity or careless indifference of Republicans—for no one doubts for a moment that we have an honest majority of over 39,000 in the Commonwealth—there would be a Democratic Senate and House of Representatives, a Democratic State Treasurer, and consequently the most reckless expenditure of the State funds for at least a year to come that has ever been heard of. If any man doubts the foregoing sentence, let him look at the expenditures of the Democratic Legislatures in other States during the past two years. Take Ohio, for instance, where unheard of knavery and extravagance ruled the hour of Democratic ascendency. Look at Maryland, with less than one fourth of our population; yet her expenditures for two years past have nearly equalled if not exceeded ours. In addition to this, the farmer may expect, as in good old Democratic times, to again be called upon to pay a few dollars per acre for real estate tax. Protection to the laboring classes will be laughed at, as Democratic leaders generally are "down on tariffs." The monopolists of New York would delight in the repeal of the tariff on iron especially, and by their hoisting Asa Packer into power, there would be inserted one great wedge to help split the hated tariff beam.

Already some fire eating Democrats talk of repudiating the national debt. By their elevation to power in Penn'a, they would grow more bold on the subject; and Penn'a, once Democratic in name, if not in fact, would mightily help them to carry out their villainous schemes.

Lastly, by Democratic accession, our State debt would again begin to grow, and from the hour they might spring into power. This we know from the fact that our debt was never known to steadily decrease under Democratic Government, while under Republican rule the contrary has invariably been the case.

With all the facts before us, is there not a greater responsibility resting upon the Republican party in Penn'a, to-day, than has ever before been the case? Let every lover of permanent peace, prosperity and happiness then awake to the reality that this is a campaign worth contending for, and of much greater importance to the vital interests of our State than any campaign of the past.

WILL some of our critical Democratic friends, perhaps J. G., himself, tell us something concerning the Haines tp., "oil" company, in which some $30,000 in stock was subscribed in Haines and Penn townships? Perhaps the me, fa, sol, laing candidate on the Democratic ticket from that section, who was one of the, originators can furnish us with his record in that transaction. JAMES P. COBURN opposed the fraud.

THE Centre Hall nosegay, ycleept Reporter, is unnecessarily severe on its candidate for Recorder, ISRAEL GRONOBLE. Why should the Reporter, in the face of GRONOBLE's generally conceded unfitness for the office, publicly declare that "he is unfit for labor?" Poor GRONOBLE—send the assinine Teuton of the Reporter a barrel of kraut, or things will be all up with you.

"HISTORY repeats itself." Mr Packer was thrown into the Lehigh river in 1843 by Pennsylvania workmen. Three hundred thousand workingmen of Pennsylvania will throw him into the Salt River in October 1869. We have the Village Record's assurance that this fact will be accomplished at the time specified, which will be a repetition of the history of 1843.

WE wonder if the voters of Miles tp., have improved in knowledge since J. G. MEYERS pronounced them too ignorant to understand his method of teaching music!! We are willing to trust them at the polls so far as MEYERS is concerned.

MEEK speaks of FRED KURTZ of the Centre Hall Reporter as the "little dutch villain who defeated his nomination." When knaves fall out, etc.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TAX PAYERS READ AND REMEMBER.—The undersigned, Treasurer of the Board of School Directors of the Borough of Bellefonte, hereby gives notice the School Duplicate of said Borough has been placed in his hands for Collection, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly, approved April 21, 1869, entitled "An Act relating to the collection of School Tax in the School Districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," and that he will meet the tax payers of said Borough at his Store Room, on Allegheny street, on

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25th, 1869

SURVEYOR GENERAL'S OFFICE,
HARRISBURG, PA., July 7, '69.

TO the Owners of Unpatented Lands:

IN obedience to an Act of Assembly, approved the eighth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, you are hereby notified that the "County Land Lien Docket," containing the list of unpatented lands for Centre county, prepared under the Act of Assembly of the twentieth of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and the supplement thereto, has this day been forwarded to the Prothonotary of the county, at whose office it may be examined. The liens can only be liquidated by the payment of the purchase money, interest and fees, and receiving patents through this Department. Proceedings by the Attorney General have been stayed for one year from this date, in order that parties may obtain their patents without additional cost.

"GRANDFATHERS' STOVE."

Our grandfather's stove, what a fun'y old thing,
So deep, so wide and so tall;
Now the people would say, who are stylish and gay,
"It was only a hole in the wall."

It matters not what, it was pleasant to see
When night's mantle was flung over all;
Grandfather take down his good book and read
By the light from the hole in the wall.

As the sturdy young men rolled in the great logs,
They would laugh at each wintry squall,
While grandma would sit on her old chair and knit
By the light from the whole in the wall.

The girls then were home spun, and so did their beaus'n,
For pride was a principle small;
And courting was done and hearts have been won
By the light from the hole in the wall.

The neighbors were friendly wherever they'd meet,
With a word of true kindness for all;
And joy was complete to hear voices so sweet
Ring round that old hole in the wall.

In those days we know, folks cared not for show,
Of improvements knew nothing at all;
But 'twas really no joke, when great clouds of smoke
Rushed out from the hole in the wall,

But those days are now o'er, we shall know them no more,
And all those old fashions have flown;
Whilst the solemn and gay are coming each day
To purchase the famous "Old Home."

Coming not only in couples, but in scores, as hundreds of good and wise men and women have done before, to look upon this magnificent stove, which is acknowledged to be the best cooking stove of the age. Remember the place,

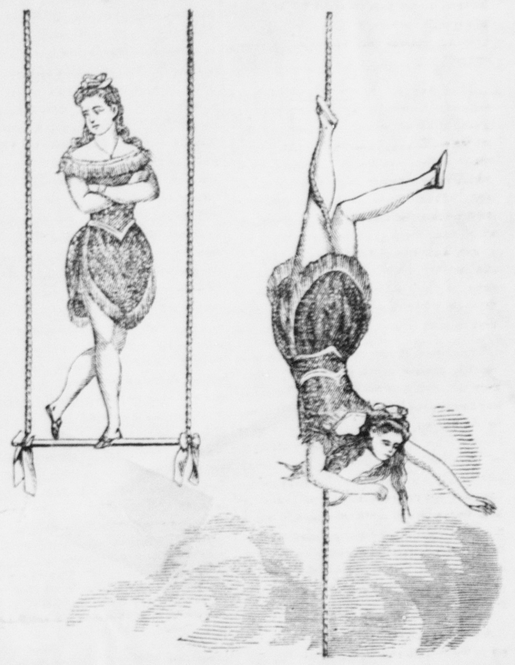
MENAGERIE AND AVIARY!

The great leading and most complete, elegant and stupendous Equestrian, Zoological and Ornithological aggregation before the public. A colossal combination of

BRILLIANT ARENAC ARTISTS,

That acknowledge no superiors in the rendition of acts of daring, skill and courage. Proficients whose fame is wide-world, and whose exploits as Equestrians, Gymnasts, Athletes and Acrobats is the model and copy of aspirants for renown. Among these, conspicuous for matchless skill, remarkable grace and fascinating beauty are

MILLIE TOURNOR,



The Queen Phenomenon. The most sensational Equilibrist and Gymnast the world ever produced. An incomprehensible enigma styled the "Queen of the Air,"

M'LLE AMELIA CODONA.

Whose astonishing proficiency as an Equestrienne and Equilibrist, combined with her fascinatingly beautiful and elegant person, has gained for her the title of Queen of the Hippodrome.

MISS ETTIE COOK

A petit Miss, young in her teens, who rides such adjuncts as a saddle or pad, but performs vaults and poises on the back of her flying steed with ease, grace and abandon as astonishing as it is charming.

Miss LIZZIE BOYNTON,
Miss ROSA LEE,
Miss KATE GALLAWAY,
Miss BELLE LAWSON,

Scenic, Manage and Cavalcade Equestrienne and Pantomimists. The collection of

MALE ARTISTS IS NO LESS PERFECT

Embracing as it does some of the most brilliant luminaries in the profession, Among them are Mr. HARRY CODONA, Justly styled "Champion Somersault Rider." Mr. H. TIBBS, Mr. T. McLESON, Mr. T. BALL, The TORRELI Brothers, LUCIAN and EDWARD, Athletes of truly wonderful skill and incredible endurance.

Mr. N. BANKER,
Mr. J. PEDDEN,
Mr. T. POLAND,
Mr. M. STONE,
THE CENELLO BROTHERS

or, "Men of the Air," wonder-workers of the most thrilling and sensational character. Master FRANCOIS, WILLIE and CLARKE, Little midgets of wonderful precocity and astonishing proficiency.

THREE CLOWNS OR JESTERS,

First of whom stands conspicuously as the most original wit, quaint compound of oddities and mirth-provoking genius.

JOHNNY LAWTON,

Vaudilarly called "Happy Jack" and his worthy satellites PHIL MORTON and CHARLEY STELEY.

The Array of Wild Beasts

Is of sufficient magnitude to form an exhibition alone of more than ordinary attraction; comprising as it does specimens of every geographical range, from the Frigid to the Torrid Zones. Among them is

A BABY ELEPHANT,
A PAIR OF ABYSSINIANS CAMELS,
ASIATIC LIONS,

Royal Bengal Tigers, Brazilian Cheetah and Hunting Leopards, Panthers, Russian White and Black Bears, Silver Lions, Kangaroo, Ocelot, Mandrel, Wallaroo, Emu, Ounce, Caracal, Chimmenon, Ant Eater, and scores of Monkeys, Apes and Baboons, and an almost innumerable collection of smaller animals and flocks of RARE AND BEAUTIFUL BIRDS, that cannot fail in proving a source of wonder and pleasure to the rising generation, and a delightful study to the student of natural history.

A striking feature in the display of the wild beasts will be the miraculous and incomprehensible familiarity exhibited by the ONLY LION QUEEN ON EARTH,

SIGNORITA ELLA EUGENIE,

and the renowned King among Lion Kings,

Herr Elijah Lengel,

with the most ferocious and savage natured in the collection, whose dens they enter at each exhibition, and pet, fondle or coerce the monsters at will, even carrying their temerity so far as to take them as companions home, and untrammeled through the streets, in the public procession of the Company on the morning of their advent—a novelty the world is challenged to equal.

More than the usual number of

SCHOOLED HORSES, TRICK PONIES, EDUCATED MULES and PERFORMING MONKEYS, the especial delight of the juveniles, will be introduced at the entertainments, afternoon and night.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

FOR SALE.—Mrs. McBride offers a splendid building lot for sale on Bishop street. No prettier locality in town for a residence.

WANTED—A nurse to take charge of two small children. An elderly lady preferred. To a competent person liberal wages will be paid. For particulars, apply at this office. 3t·

SAVE MONEY —If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

LOST —On Wednesday or Thursday of last week, a pair of steel-frame spectacles, in a new morocco case. Any person finding them, and leaving them at this office, will be suitably rewarded.

BECOMING DECENT —We learn that the Democrats at Centre Hall, and vicinity, have abandoned the idea, lately, strongly entertained by them, of running an independent post-office—under the management of the late Democratic incumbent. Emphatically sensible—the Government having a quiet way of assessing such unlawful aspirants for postage honors, a cool half thousand. We can't always do precisely those things our craving desires or financial interests suggest.

THAT TREAT.—Those princes of good fellows, Messrs. Zellar & Jarrett, Druggists, Bishop street, Bellefonte, Pa., whose souls are immensely larger than that justly celebrated fountain from which they deal out that wonder of the age, "Soda Water"—colder—infinitely colder than the icebergs of the poles, invited us to try a glass at their own expense, which act added very largely to the quality of the article, and, thanking them, we left, with a better opinion of Druggists in general, and Zellar & Jarrett in particular. Give them a call.

SUICIDE.—Martin Billmyer, who was serving out a sentence in the Williamsport jail, for defrauding the Revenue, has committed suicide. The jailer was in the habit of treating him with some leniency by allowing him the privilege of walking out occasionally. He was permitted to go out last Tuesday evening, but did not return, and no trace of him was received until Wednesday, when his body was found among some shrubbery, a considerable distance in the rear of the jail, with throat cut from ear to ear, and the suicidal knife grasped in his hand.

AMES' MENAGERIE, CIRCUS AND AVIARY.—We devote two columns of the REPUBLICAN to the advertisement of this justly celebrated exhibition, and if they do one half they advertise, it will be the best thing of the kind that has ever visited our thriving young city. The New Orleans Picayune, in speaking of it, says: We are not in the habit of indiscriminately puffing exhibitions of any kind, but when so much real worth and genuine novelty is combined in any single exhibition, we deem it a duty we owe the public to make the fact known, and therefore take pleasure in recommending this establishment as eminently worthy the support of all, and incomparably superior to anything of the kind we have ever before witnessed. Go and see them.

UNIONVILLE, Aug 28, '69.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Affairs have assumed a more decided character since my last, and if our assertions do not prove facts, we resort to something more tangible to have the argument more indelibly impressed.

Our neighboring city, Julian, was thrown into an intense state of excitement on the night of the 26th inst., by what might have resulted fatally to Mr J. C, Henderson. It appears there has been a domestic difficulty existing between Henderson, and Mr. Light, of that place, for a number of years; and as Henderson was trying to effect an entrance into a house which both have claims upon, Light discharged a gun loaded with shot, a small portion of which took effect in the crown of Henderson's head, the greater part passing through his hat. The wound inflicted was of a trivial character, we are pleased to say. Mr Light was brought to Unionville, and after a hearing before Justice Blair, in default of fifteen hundred dollars bail, was taken to Bellefonte prison.

Mr. Light, you will remember, lost a daughter by suffocation from gas a few weeks ago in one of the rooms of the St. Clair Hotel, Pittsburg. We do not justify Mr L. in his extreme resort in the Henderson case, but from what we occasionally hear, the act was provoked.

Our borough has about passed to the shades. Our laws cannot or will not be enforced by the proper officers, and we are going to hang them up to dry, for a future generation to gaze upon, and blush to think, and to know, that history has recorded how sorely afflicted were the spinal columns of their venerable fathers. We have good laws; but when our property is trespassed upon by our more wealthy neighbors, nothing is done in their case, for fear of incurring their displeasure, or the black looks and horrid threats of their friends. But let a poor devil be in the wrong, the law is all right; just adapted to his case; and away goes an officer to enforce the law. Oh, shame! Be men. Let all obey the laws; and soon the very names of those persons who tried by their threats to intimidate, will be looked upon with loathing and disgust, by all consistent and upright citizens. Messrs. Editors, we would sift this inconsistency to the bottom, but space in your invaluable paper forbids. LIBERI.

From our own Correspondent.

THE RAILROAD MEETING AT MILLHEIM. —Enthusiastic Assemblage of Railroad Men—What the Penn'a Railroad Co. offer—Reports, Resolutions, Speeches, &c.—The day was delightful; the interests involved of unusual prominence, and the gathering of earnest and representative friends of the Lewisburg, Centre and Spruce Creek Railroad, unequalled by any similar assemblage ever held in its favor, excepting, perhaps, that at the Old Fort, in 1854. Preceded by the Pine Grove Cornet Band, the numerous squads of busy talkers upon the streets, gradually formed in line, and were speedily seated in the capacious M. E. Church, most generously tendered the meeting by the church trustees.

Col. Ayers, of Spruce Creek, was elected Chairman, and Hon's Fred Kurtz and B. O. Deininger, Secretaries, with the following named gentlemen as Vice-Presidents: Philip Schuck, John Smith, Ed. B. Isaacs, Otis Thompson, Dr. Miller, Jas. P. Coburn, B. B. Lincoln, J. G. Meyer, P. G. Meek, Jos. Shirk, Robt. H. Duncan, Dr Deshler, Geo. B. Ard and Wm. Walker.

CHAIRMAN—Gentlemen, we have convened to-day for the purpose set forth in the call of Col. Slifer, but it is desirable that some gentleman familiar with the details should more fully explain the object of the meeting.

Mr. WILSON—At a meeting of Railroad men in May last, a committee was appointed to confer with the officers of the Penn'a Central Railroad to ascertain what could be done to perfect the arrangement necessary to complete the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, and I understand that committee is ready to report.

GEO. F. MILLER—As a member of that committee, it is proper to state that in company with other members of the committee, I visited the officers of the Penn'a Central Railroad, at Philadelphia, and had a most cordial interview. We were assured of their hearty co-operation in the building of the road, as well as their faith in its practicability and vast importance. Col Slifer, Chairman of this committee, but at present so dangerously ill as to preclude the visit of others than the immediate members of his family, when prostrated, was in active preparation of an elaborate report embracing as well the ultimatum of the Penn'a Central Company, as likewise many valuable and important suggestions to the people of Centre county—For the reason stated, Col S. is necessarily absent to day, and not less hastily than unexpectedly, I have prepared the following report, regretting the lack in details which the Chairman, alone, was enabled to furnish:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

The Committee appointed to confer with the Central Railroad Co., in regard to the extension of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, beg leave (in the absence of Hon. Eli Slifer, Chairman, who is confined to his room by severe illness) to report—

That a portion of your committee, in pursuance with their appointment, went to the city of Philadelphia, and there called at the office of the Penn'a Central Railroad company, and had a cordial interview with the officers of said road, and after laying before them the object of the interview, it was concluded on the part of the P. C. R. R Co., to appoint a committee to examine the contemplated route, or a portion, and report relative thereto, which committee was appointed, and subsequently, after making examination, made a favorable report, whereupon it was agreed to accept the proposition made on behalf of the friends of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad; to procure the right of way, and grade the latter road, in case the P. C R. R. Co. would cause the balance of the work to be done, and run the road.

This proposition being adopted on the part of the P. C. R. R. Co., your committee feel assured that this important link of public improvement will soon be made, if the citizens along the contemplated route manifest a liberal spirit in the way of subscriptions, and your committee would urge immediate action.

Respectfully submitted,

G F. MILLER,
In behalf of Committee.

In addition to this brief report, I may add that your committee were repeatedly assured that, in case the people along the contemplated route of the L. C. & S. C. R. R., do as they instructed their committee to represent to the P C R R Co., that they would do the balance. We must give the right of way, and grade the road-bed—they will tie, rail, stock and run it. It is proper that you should know that while we were in the company's office several gentlemen were present from other portions of the State, asking for material aid to the construction of other roads whose building would militate against the completion of this grand internal improvement. We cannot—must not delay in our action. We must, unitedly, put our shoulders to the wheel, and force this vast enterprise through. It has been stated that Lewisburg does not favor the completion of this road, so long as she can receive your wheat and produce without building this road. It is not so. We do most earnestly, and for more reasons than I can here state, desire the success of this enterprise, and that man who is, in this age of progress, raises his hand against internal improvements, is no more than a tomb-stone among the obsolete erudities of the past. Why does the land about Lewisburg command prices in advance of that in Penns valley? Simply that, while you are dragging your course along with horses and wagons, we are enabled to ship our produce one day, and receive our returns within the succeeding 24 hours. Our freight is immense; but this road would be double it. Here is a great road proposing to do for you what it has never proposed to the people of any other section of this great State. No more favorable offer could, in common sense, be expected, and candor compels utterance to the belief that it will be the last offer we will receive at all liberal in comparison. Ten years ago I attended a meeting to discuss the feasibility of this road, and I believe, had you acted upon my advice at that time, you would not now be here listening to a proposition of aid. To build railroads, as to support armies, requires money. To withhold the expenditure of means until the entire stock is subscribed, is as suicidal as to withhold subscriptions in toto. Make a beginning; subscribe your stock; be liberal; stop haggling; divest yourselves of local prejudices; act in accordance with the progressive spirit of the age, and if I fail to put the road under contract, and signal its completion through your valley, by the whistling of the engine within twelve months, I will resign my position as president of this company instanter, and deny my identity.

Our limited space debars a lengthier report of Mr. Miller's most interesting speech.

Mr. WILSON—I would like to know—not so much for my own personal doubts, as for many others—whether the stock subscribed along the line of this road will be equal, in all things, to the stock held by the Penn'a Central company, or whether that company will hold and enjoy greater facilities than we?

Hon. G. F. MILLER—I am authorized to state that the Penn'a Central company expect to stand on an equal footing with the stockholders along the line of the L. C. & S. C. R R., and neither desire nor expect additional rights and privileges. Notice has been given that upon the payment of $5 per share, upon the old stock, that stock will stand good; but if it is not paid, the old books will be destroyed, and a clean sheet be presented.

W. C. DUNCAN—I move the report of the committee be accepted. Agreed to. Mr Duncan paid a deservedly high compliment to the character of Col. Slifer, delaring that no man within the walls of this house had the enterprise more closely at heart.

ED. BLANCHARD—We have had much experience, on our side of the mountain, with railroads. I was a member of the committee appointed in May last, but was unable to attend at Philadelphia, I came over, to-day, to see if the people are in earnest—were determined to build a railroad. I have had some experience in the Bald Eagle road. We talked, palavered and did nothing for a long time; just as you have been doing for the past fifteen years. Mr. Fallon said no money should be expended until the entire stock was subscribed. It was a bad policy.—At length we got on a new plan. We commenced work—broke down two or three times—got up again—and now, while you said the steam whistle would be echoing through your valley, we have two roads, and you have none! It has been said that we of Bellefonte are opposed to this road. I am here to state, most emphatically, that we want a railroad built from Lewisburg to Spruce Creek, and we hereby pledge you our material support. It is the salvation of the Snow Shoe road, and that company is in perfect accord with this movement. The Central company says it will be paying stock, and what company knows better? It has been erroneously stated that the stock was to be a sinking stock. This is not so; the Central road does not ask it; they will more or less run it. We do not ask you to put freight upon the road; we will do that. The Snow Shoe road will put 350 tons per day, of heavy freight, upon this road, in lumber and coal. Our two roads but demonstrate the necessity for more. We had no such inducements offered us as the Central now offers you. The Penn'a Central company don't spend money foolishly; they say this stock will pay; and if it will pay them, why not you? The Philipsburg people had to give the right of way, and could get no stock. The Central company assume, by far, the greater portion of the work; our duty is plain and the burden is light. This road completed, and we can ship fifty cents per ton cheaper, and compete with other roads, which we cannot do now. We, of Bellefonte, are figuring all the while, and the result of our figuring I give you today. Stop fighting on localities; drop your prejudices, and the Snow Shoe company, and all Bellefonte, will aid you.

Col. HASLETT—I move the appointment of a committee of 3 or 5 from each township along the line to receive subscriptions of 5 or 10 per cent.

R. H. DUNCAN—I move to amend, and empower the citizens of each township to select such committee to solicit subscriptions along the line, the taxable property to be the criterian for each towards assessment or subscription.

W. C. DUNCAN—I think a portion of the committee should be appointed here; also a general committee to receive the report of the sub-committees.

CHAIRMAN—Why not have the sub-committees report to the general committee, and that committee report to the company?

Hon. G. F. MILLER—All we want is the amount subscribed.

A. B. HUTCHISON—I move that the Chair'n of this meeting, the Pres't of the L. C. & S. C. R. R., and the Directors of said company resident along the route of the proposed road, be constituted a Committee to appoint sub-committees of from three to seven in each township, as shall seem expedient to them, to publish circulars fully informing the people of all their subscriptions, to furnish to the sub-committees properly prepared books for the receiving of subscriptions of stock and releases of the right of way, the said sub committees to report to the general Committee, and they to a meeting of the stockholders, when the same shall be called for by the officers of the company.

I believe a portion of the committee can be formed to-day, and something tangible be decided upon. We want the books prepared, and the heading so framed as to avoid any subscription that the stock will be diverted from its original use. Build this road to Spruce Creek, and we, of Bellefonte, will tap it before you get half way there.

The original motion was withdrawn, and Mr. Hutchison's motion adopted.

A motion to commence the construction of the road from both ends, was lost.

A resolution that the officers of the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Co., be generally instructed to put the road under contract, and forward, as fast as the means will permit, was passed.

Also a resolution complimentary to the speakers, and to the trustees of the church, band, &c.

In accordance with the resolution of Mr. Hutchison, the following gentlemen were selected as the COMMITTEES—HUNTINGDON COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY MORNING Sept. 1, '69,

Thinning Out Grapes.

As the season for thinning out grapes is at hand, the following timely suggestions from the Grape Culturist will prove valuable to our grape-growing readers:

"Is the importance of thinning out the fruit of the vine duly considered by the majority of cultivators? I think not. From close observation, and sad experience, the subject, in my opinion, calls for much more attention than is usually given. In young vines, this is particularly the case.

Such vigorous and hardy constituted varieties as the Concord may stand it, but even they will eventually suffer. This fault is not only to be found in the vineyards of the novice, but can be seen almost everywhere, in charge of those who know better. This, then being admitted, the next question is, how shall it best be remedied? Shall we prune so much shorter, so as not to leave more wood than the vine can carry safely through, or leave more wood, and then thin out the bunches?

The latter, in my opinion, will be the best, for by the first plan we get our fruit too much crowded and throw too much force into the young canes for the following year's bearing. My impression is, that when a vine is pruned to what would seem about right, the pitching out of every third bunch, at first operation, pinching back would be the method. I would leave but two bunches on each bearing shoot, and in some instances it is better to leave but one.

We all know that the forming of the seed of any fruit is the heaviest tax on the plant. This being the case, do we not give considerable relief when we diminish this tax one-third? I think it would not be safe in counting on having the same weight of fruit in the two bunches as if three are left. Some years ago we grew Concord bunches in that way, which the committee who were to test them, would not admit to be that variety until they tasted them. For marketing table grapes this is particularly practicable. For instance, let one man take Concords that will average three-fourth of a pound to the bunch, and another have them as usually grown, and my word for it, the large bunches will command nearly double price, not only among the wealthy, but the masses.

How Good Farmers Save Money.—They take good papers and read them.

They keep account of farm operations.

They do not leave their implements scattered over the farm, exposed to the rain, snow and heat.

They repair tools and buildings at a proper time, and do not suffer a needless told expenditure of time and money.

They use their money judiciously and do not attend auction sales to purchase all kinds of trumpery because it is "so cheap."

They do not refuse to make correct experiments, in a small way, of many new things. They plant their fruit trees well, care for them, and of course they have good crops.

Successful farming is made up by attention to the little things. The farmer who does his best, earns his money with best appreciations, and uses it with best results. Such men are the "salt of the earth."

The Farmer is never so strong, never of so much service to himself and his fellows as when he speaks for himself. We care not whether it be in a public journal, or at a public meeting, but nothing is so impolitic as to attempt to smother him up under the wing of somebody else. It is this that has made the discussions of our Farmer's Clubs so trustworthy and especially valuable. These proceedings really represent the opinions of the class they are assumed to be; whereas a too common habit to overlay him and his with very great people and some other people, so that he loses all identity and has to answer for he knows not what.

An experienced dairyman says: There is no process of working or washing that will secure a good article of butter, or that will get all the buttermilk out till it has stood a short time, when it must be worked over the second time, after which it will keep a long time. Butter that has not been worked the second time will not keep more than two or three days in warm weather. I do not care how much pains you take with it, the buttermilk that is left in the butter becomes sour, makes your butter rancid.

A Member of the Mass. Legislature announces his ability to prove if the town authorities would set out maple trees on the highways, in less than ten years the yield would more than pay the interest of the debts of the town.

Three definitions: To mulch a soil is to cover it with some vegetable refuse; to manure is to blend with a soil substance rich in plant-food, to cultivate is to stir often and root out weeds.

It is stated that there are already three thousand steam plows at work in England, some of them with stationary engines capable of driving from three to six plows each.

If the roots of trees are dipped into water just before planting, the earth that sticks to them will give support to the smaller fibers.

TOWN LOTS FOR SALE, HAVING THE FOLLOWING MERITS.—
They are near the Court House.
They are not on a hill.
They are located on one of the principal streets of the Borough.
They are very low in price.
They will be sold on a reasonable credit.
Half the marketing entering Bellefonte passes the front of these lots, and may be had, which is an important consideration; for, who has not travelled the rounds of the stores in search of butter, &c., and returned home disappointed?
For a residence and boarding house for any who do not wish to loose time going or returning from meals, these lots are very desirable. Apply to

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.
GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.
Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.
The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.
The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.
No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.
Chorus, for the end of each verse:
The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. Sternberg,
A most delightful notion.
Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.
People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.
Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,
RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00

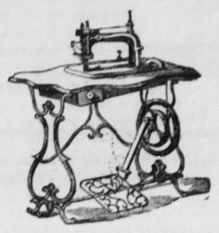
SEWING MACHINES.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE
OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.
MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.



In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.
It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.
The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.
INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.
Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at

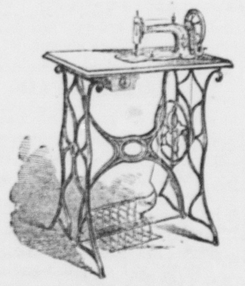
SEWING MACHINE.
THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE.



Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a FAMILY MACHINE,
destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.
The machine which they now offer is quiet light-running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for
HEMMING, BRAIDING, BINDING,
QUILTING, TUCKING, CORDING, FELLING, GATHERING,
are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. Machines on hand for sale and exhibition, together with a full and complete assortmet of SILK, TWIST, LINEN, OR COTTON THREAD, and all the accessories for the machines, by

SCROLL WORK,
and manufactured lumber of
EVERY DESCRIPTION
at the
LOWEST CASH PRICES
All manner of work such as Scroll Sawing, Moulding, Brackets, &c., &c made after any desired pattern,
ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.
This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.
Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved
COKE DRYING KILNS;
which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable
TO DECAY AND WASTE.
Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not SHRIVEL AND SHRINK,
thus giving buildings the appearance of having been erected out of Green Material
We know that our facilities give us every advantage over other
PLANING MILLS IN THIS SECTION and we feel perfectly free in saying, that all our WORK WILL BE GUARANTEED, to be of
A SUPERIOR QUALITY.
We will furnish anything in our line from a door panel, to a WHOLE HOUSE,
and at such prices, as cannot but prove to be an inducement to THOSE DESIRING TO BUILD.
All orders promptly filled and a fair share of public patronage, respectfully solicited.
